Message to Christian Men

Don't you know we are pro-life?" This was a frequent question posed to our team outside "The Main Event" at the Municipal Auditorium in Nashville on July 22-23, 2016. This Christian Men's conference is sponsored by Lifeway, and our CBR-Southeast office returned for a second year with the goal of reaching thousands of men with the truth about abortion. Our abortion photo signs gave them the evidence of abortion's horror. Another sign read "Pro-life? Really? What are you doing about it?"

Statistics demonstrate that many of these men have paid for abortions. Some of them pressured their wives, girlfriends or daughters to abort. Many were carrying the bloodguilt if they had not yet repented of their part in the killing of their preborn children. Often it is an abortion photo which God uses to pierce people's hearts and propel them to action.

CBR is focused on exhorting the Church to be witnesses against abortion. We cannot win this battle without more Christians getting involved. We have developed a campaign called "The Church Project," and we are accordingly going to more Christian venues with our signs and literature.

This new sign has been designed by CBR for our Church Project.

We are up against hard hearts even in the church community. Volunteer Chad Rosenberger was surprised that many men took the brochures and then discarded them in the trash as they entered the event. It was obvious those men were not willing to repent of their complicity or their complacency regarding abortion.

"Why did you choose to go bring your signs to a Christian function?" was the sincere question asked by a man who spoke with Ms. Kitty Stamps. She explained our goals to him; he then thanked us for what we are doing and prayed over Ms. Stamps, thanking God for our boldness and asking God to bless us all.

"Even if you plant the seed, you are doing God's work. I will go to your website and I promise, I will do my best to watch the [CBR abortion] video. I need to." An attendee named Vince had an open heart as he gave this encouraging feedback to CBR staff member Jane Bullington.

"I show abortion to my students." This was more encouragement and also a surprising remark that came from a teacher who spoke with CBR-Southeast Director Fletcher Armstrong. Thank God for this teacher's willingness to teach the truth.

"My mom is working to try to 'make up for her mistake,'" said a youth minister as he spoke with our volunteer Kathy Proctor about his mother's heavy involvement in pro-life ministry. He came up to our signs with a high school student from his youth group in Arkansas. As he helped the teen understand our signs, he also explained that his mother aborted her first child and later deeply regretted the decision. She named the aborted child Caleb, and the youth minister subsequently named his first child Caleb in honor of his fallen brother. The pastor promised to use our brochure and the Scriptures in his Sunday night youth group session.

"Do you think using those abortion photos shows love?" This man expressed a misguided, yet not uncommon, attitude about how Christians should show love. The man went on to say the pictures are confrontational and don't show the love of Jesus. Mrs. Proctor told him how the pictures worked and how women tell us that the pictures are what kept them from aborting their children. We are always loving in our manner when we use abortion photo signs. He listened, then nodded and walked away.

A number of men told Mrs. Proctor that their wives were involved in crisis pregnancy centers. Most of them had abortions previously and they wanted to spare other women from that horror.

"I'm pro-choice!" a young man in his late 20's declared right before he walked through the doors of the conference. Ms. Stamps felt sorrow for him, but she decided to pray and ask God to soften his heart and help him to see that his attitude grieves God.

"Don't take that! Just throw it away!" This came from an irate conference attendee as one of the four teenage boys with him accepted our "Why This? Why here?" brochure. CBR-Georgia staff member Lincoln Brandenburg calmly posed this question to the angry man, "Sir, does God not care about children killed by abortion?" The man refused to answer.

"Be men! Be Christian men! Be godly men and help us put an end to the slaughter of unborn babies! If we don't, who will?" CBR staff member John Stair gave this exhortation to numerous men to whom he offered our brochure.

Mr. Stair gave an attendee a brochure and the man was very supportive of our project. After conversing about the need for the Church to show the pictures, he offered to provide Mr. Stair with admission into the event. He thought that Mr. Stair would like to go in after the conference began, but Mr. Stair thanked him and declined, noting he must remain on the sidewalk for any late attendees and passing locals. At the end of the conference on Saturday, he came by and thanked Mr. Stair for being there and enduring the heat to challenge people about abortion.

"But this is ten weeks! You can see the baby's intestines and heart and ligaments!" Melanie was passing by but stopped to look at our aborted baby signs. She said that she was a Christian, yet she had thought abortion was okay if it was early in the pregnancy. By the time her conversation with our staff ended, Melanie stated, "Really, you have a new person from conception. And it's a sin to kill that person!"

After our outreach at "The Main Event," we were heartened to receive an email message from Patrick in West Tennessee:

Hello. I was at the Lifeway men's conference in Nashville. I saw your pictures going into the building. Conviction and sadness filled my soul. I cannot stop thinking about what is being done to babies every day. The Lord has really spoken to me to pray and do all I can as a follower of Jesus to help stop abortion. I took a pamphlet someone was handing out and looked you guys up. What can I do to help stop abortion?

We trust that God is moving in the hearts of many more men who attended "The Main Event." What will they do in response to His calling?

"And if the people of the land do at all close their eyes to that man when he gives one of his children to Molech...then I will set my face against...[them] and will cut them off from among their people." LEVITICUS 20:4-5

Namibian Youth Learn from CBR

Early in August, faithful CBR-SE staff member Jane Bullington, along with her husband, traveled to Namibia, Africa, to visit their nephew and his wife. Little did she know God had some specific pro-life ministry plans for her.

Although Mrs. Bullington anticipated this trip would be a vacation, her nephew asked her to speak to Christian youth about abortion and abstinence. The missionary nephew emailed this appalling report:

Recently our sewer system was blocked because of discarded babies in the system. Aborted babies are found on the outer fence line of our local university. Abortion-related deaths of mothers is also common.

On Friday night, August 5, Jane gave a presentation to about 35 high school and college-age students who attend Youth with a Purpose (YWAP) at New Song Church, led by Bryan and Dana Bullington.

Mrs. Bullington used the SLED (Size, Level of development, Environment, and Degree of Dependency) and “Trot out the Toddler” arguments. She spent time sharing Scriptures about the sanctity of human life and our God-given responsibility to protect the most vulnerable.

The students were thoroughly engaged in the talk and several spoke with Mrs. Bullington following the presentation. One young lady said, “I was confused before you spoke, but now I understand what God wants me to do.”

Almost everyone took one or more of the CBR brochures which included Scripture references and abortion photos. We know these tools work cross-culturally because God has given people everywhere a conscience.

Mrs. Bullington reported:

It was awesome to share our story of life in this setting with these young adults. I am praying for American pastors to be more open to [giving] our message in front of their congregants.

Please pray for much fruit to come from Mrs. Bullington’s presentation.

Jane Bullington of CBR-Southeast spoke to young people at New Song Church in Namibia this month. They eagerly received the truth about abortion and learned what they can do to stand against it.

Thank you for standing with us as we stand for justice and righteousness in the Church and in the public square.

“Thus says the LORD, ‘Do justice and righteousness, and deliver the one who has been robbed from the power of his oppressor. Also do not mistreat or do violence to the stranger, the orphan, or the widow; and do not shed innocent blood in this place.’”

JEREMIAH 22:3
